The Canal Commissioners have advertised for a loan of $1,000,000 at 6 per cent interest, redeemable in 1865. On which with the principal in stock, the treasury will discharge $1,494,000 which falls due in July next.

The Constitution of the State, Article VII, Section I, provides that $1,300,000 per annum of the Canal revenue is to be set apart as a Sinking Fund, until 1855, and $700,000 per annum from that year, from which the interest is to be paid, and the balance go to liquidate the principal. The operation of this Sinking Fund will cancel the Canal Debt in 1865.

Section 26 of the same article of this Constitution, sets apart $350,000 per annum of the Canal revenue, till the time when the entire Canal Debt shall be paid.

(1960) and $1,500,000 after that time, as a Sinking Fund for the payment of the General Debt. The operation of this proposed Sinking Funding Fund will cancel the entire State Debt in 1970, even if a portion of the Contingent Debt shall fall upon the State.

The High Court of Errors and Appeals in Mississippi has recently made an important decision. (United States v. State of Mississippi) involving the right of the State to take the money of foreign corporations deposited in Mississippi; and it is said that the decision will have the effect of bringing into the State Treasury several hundred thousand dollars.

The Bank of the United States filed a bill to restrain the collection of taxes on $250,000 loaned by that institution to the Commercial and Merchants Bank of Virginia. The bill alleges that the Commercial Bank of Virginia is a corporation created by the State of Virginia, but, as it is not a corporation of the United States, it is not entitled to the exemption from, but subjected to, the payment of the tax on its loans.

The United States Bank have since filed a new bill in
